ASAP announces shortlist for 2018 ASAP Serviced Apartment Industry Awards

ASAP – the not-for-profit trade body for the serviced apartment sector – is delighted to announce that, following a record level of entries for its 2018 ASAP Awards Programme, some 99 companies from across the world have been shortlisted across the 10 different award categories.

The shortlist was announced by James Foice, ASAP CEO, this evening, Thursday 20 September, at ASAP's autumn networking event at the Institute of Directors in London. Speaking after the announcement, James Foice commented:

'It's fantastic to have secured a record level of entries for our sixth ASAP Serviced Apartment Industry Awards. It's particularly exciting that we have companies from 13 different countries featuring on our 2018 shortlist – including Mexico, the Philippines, Korea and Singapore – which is a true reflection of the global reach and growth of our Association. And it's tremendous that this year's shortlist also features 21 companies who have entered our awards for the very first time.'

All shortlisted finalists will now go forward to the final awards judging day in October when our judging panel of 8 industry leaders will select a winner in each category.

All the winners will then be announced at the prestigious ASAP Gala dinner which takes place on the evening of 6 December at etc venues, 155 Bishopsgate, London following on immediately after the ASAP 2018 Convention which takes place that day.

Please refer to the attached pdf document to see the full list of all 99 companies successfully shortlisted for the 2018 ASAP Serviced Apartment Industry Awards.
